

Motionhouse Communities & informal education

Alongside our work in schools, colleges and universities, we deliver workshops and projects to groups and communities throughout the UK. We have delivered our workshops to youth dance groups, over 60s groups, private dance schools, at festivals, dance organisations within the industry and more.

Our workshops are always tailored to be relevant and exciting to the groups we are working with including but not limited to:

- Mock auditions
- Contact work exploring lifting techniques and partnering
- Exploring themes and repertoire from current touring productions
- Contemporary, contact improvisation/jams, floorwork, and acrobatic technique classes
- Choreolab or choreographic intensives
- Performance intensives/residencies – usually over 3-5 days to create a dance performance based on a piece of Motionhouse repertoire. Previous projects have led to performances in schools, theatres, festivals, and at special events
- Alternatively, we offer Experience Days where you can visit us in our beautiful rehearsal and creation space in Leamington Spa. Students can enjoy a “day in the life of dancer” and take part in company class, watch rehearsals, learn something new and get a chance to speak to the dancers in a Q&A session.

“The content was great and allowed our first year students to explore something new, with a link and reference to professional work”
